Embroidery Anti-Glue Needle

This needle has a special coating making it suitable for embroidery when stitching through fabric layers that are fixed with adhesive spray, iron-on fabric adhesive or glue. The needle itself has the same features as our regular embroidery needles, however the special coating reduces glue residue on the needle itself and the needle eye which minimizes thread breakage. Also, this needle has a longer stitch life, than a regular embroidery needle. Can also be used for applique when stitching through fabrics adhered to a base fabric.

Regular needle stitch life is approximately 8 hours depending on the fabric being stitched.

*Note: Janome sewing machines & embroidery machines use organ needles.
Janome branded needles are organ needles.*
